Re: Miller Residence- 1797 Charline Ave, Atlanta, GA 30306
Parcel ID- 18-056-04-110
Zoned R-4 Residential
Subdivision- Johnson Estates ( Block 8 )

A. Variance Hardships

1. The existing residential home of Beth Miller Walsh is on a floodplain which was not created by the owner or applicant therefore the owner cannot enjoy her property as the others in the same zoning district. The zoning relief being sought is to move the house forward and to build the residence to adapt to the floodplain that is present and increase the width by 4’.

2. The interpretation and strict application of the applicable requirements would cause undue and necessary hardship for the owner as she will have to endure the consequences of repeat flooding which could cause or provide opportunity for liability issues due to structural damage, health of owner and others that visit the property and would impact the property value of Ms. Millers residence. The requested variance does not go beyond the minimum necessary to provide relief and the granted approval will not be inconsistent with the other properties in the same zoning district.

3. Each property within the Johnson Estates is different from the other. Each parcel bears their own reasoning/ justification of hardships if applicable from the other therefore each site should be treated differently than each other as no two sites are alike.
4. The granting/approval of the variance will not be materially detrimental as the placement of new residence does not cause harm or visibility obstacles to the public or community. Neighbors are in support of this variance. The requested variance is consistent with the spirit and purpose of the Comprehensive Plan. The proposed home is harmonious and aesthetically pleasing to the Johnson Estates Subdivision as well as the City of Atlanta Community. The intent of the ordinance is to provide all property owners the opportunity to enjoy their residence while keeping parameters in place to keep consistency within the community.
